Located within an onsite hotel, Y Spa is one of the most significant UK spa openings in 2012 and has been put together by some of the country's most recognised spa professionals.

New flagship spa brand for 1 Hotels

Hospitality and health consultancy Under a Tree has won the contract to create a flagship spa experience for 1 Hotels, owned by Starwood Capital Group.

Scheduled to launch in 2015, at the 1 hotel Brooklyn Bridge Park, New York, the spa has been conceived around the idea of an urban retreat, according to Under a Tree's Amy McDonald.

"The 7,000sq ft (650sq m) spa will consist of highly innovative specialty environments referencing signature themes of heat, water, earth and air," she said. "Reflecting the hospitality brand, the experience will focus on a highly curated, personalised and integrated approach to lifestyle wellness."

The spa menu will also offer a wealth of fresh air fitness and recreational programmes, connecting guests to the distinctive location, culture and atmosphere.

Under a Tree is also working on the luxury 51* Spa Residence, being developed by the Swiss Development Group, in the alpine thermal town of Loeche les Bains in Switzerland. The 8,000sq ft (743sq m) site will provide a

The two banya suites present a collection of integrated indoor and outdoor environments, combining contrast thermal bathing with relaxation and recreation, including spa and wellness services, private dining and made-to-order celebrations.

The bathhouse will be a place of contemplation, relaxation and congregation, with indoor and outdoor hydrotherapy pools using local mineral water. Details: <http://lei.sr?a=0484g>

RED HOTELS

Red Hotels has a unique approach to customer service, sustainability and wellbeing. We are family-owned and have two very diverse hotels with spas in Cornwall, UK. Both share the ambition of providing world-class individual service to our guests, whether in need of fun, relaxation or invigoration.

We also take our time to look after our teams. We want to inspire you to reach your full potential. We encourage our teams to experience nature, enjoy art and design and discover the simple pleasures in life whilst developing some beautiful relationships with their colleagues and our guests. Due to a management restructure we now have the following exciting opportunities.

RED SPA RESERVATIONS SUPERVISOR: £17k + benefits

Start date: January 2013

Perfection and attention to detail will come naturally to this candidate. Organisation and completing tasks are what they love. Experience of successfully multi-tasking in a customer-facing role and a thorough understanding of an exceptional spa experience are essential.

BEDRUTHAN

Natural beauty therapy for the whole family is provided by the spa at Bedruthan Steps Hotel. Embracing family wellbeing and inspiring all of the benefits of taking care of yourself naturally is what we do well. The spa has a growing day spa market and a desire to evolve.

DEPUTY SPA MANAGER (Bedruthan Spa): £21k + benefits

Start date: January 2013

Our ideal candidate will have a passion for taking care of people, 3 years' spa experience and a natural drive for perfection. The spa will evolve in 2013 so this person will need to successfully drive change and be full of ideas, knowing how to prioritise them and make changes effectively.

the Scarlet

This is a spa far removed from purely being about potions and lotions – it is about a personal experience – release your inner child, laugh, love, care for and be cared for. It is also about reconnecting with yourself: finding a sense of spirituality and opening your eyes to the importance of relationships, the planet and the need to stop and take time for yourself.

In operational terms it also feels rather different, due to the emphasis on spa journeys. Each journey starts with an in depth consultation process and leads each guest through a tailored programme to help them reach out and regain a sense of balance and connection with themselves.

DEPUTY SPA MANAGER: £22k + benefits

Start date: January 2013

We are looking for a very special individual to help deliver the above spa experience. The ideal candidate will have at least 3 years' spa therapy experience – including Ayurveda – experience of managing and leading a team and a commitment to treating guests and the team holistically.

SPA SUPERVISOR: £18k + benefits

Start date: January 2013

This keen individual will have at least 2 years' experience as a spa therapist and have a natural desire to lead the way. This role will include treatments; experience of holistic therapies and Ayurveda is essential.

Spabreaks.com to make spas more inclusive

Spabreaks.com has launched new packages in the UK aimed at making spas more inclusive, sparking the debate about whether spas are currently doing enough to make everyone welcome.

Launched following the Paralympics, and supported by Paralympic gold medalist Ellie Simmonds, and disability rights campaigner Claire Lomas, Spas for All promotes spas which are welcoming to wheelchair users and people with disabilities.

Spabreaks.com founder, Abi Wright, says Spas for All was launched on the back of growing demand: "We were getting about 10 enquiries a day from people with disabilities," she says, "which made us look at which spas are inclusive, so that we can advise our clients."

Some venues have also agreed to take part in the Carer Goes Free programme, which allows disabled people to bring a helper with them free of charge, if they pay full price.

Recovery Retreats, which was launched at the end of 2011, is also growing organically. Again, Wright put this package together because of consumer demand.

Abi Wright, founder of Spabreaks.com said the service is proving popular

"One of my clients called me early one Sunday morning devastated at being turned away from a spa because she was recovering from cancer," says Wright. "Cancer is a taboo subject at spas, but people suffering from this disease can benefit from spa. I handpicked a few of my most trusted spas to run the Recovery Retreats. Instead of telling people what they can't do at a spa, we focus on what they can do."

The Recovery Retreat packages vary from spa to spa. Some, particularly those with Macmillan trained therapists, offer massages, others might focus more on walks in the grounds and relaxing pool side. Details: <http://lei.sr?a=mb4x>

Sibuet ski hotel prepares to open in Val Thorens

The Altapura five star hotel and spa in Val Thorens is gearing up for its first full season in business. Situated at an altitude of 2,300m, Altapura has been inspired by Nordic design and offers 88 contemporary rooms, all with spectacular views.

It is part of the Sibuet Hotels and Spa portfolio, founded by luxury French hotelier and interior designer, Jocelyne Sibuet.

The 1,000sq m (10,800sq ft) Pure Altitude spa has seven treatment rooms and has been designed with the skier in mind, offering a wide selection of treatments dedicated to muscular relaxation, physical preparation and recuperation.

Active ingredients of Edelweiss and other mountain minerals are used in Sibuet Hotels and Spa's own product brand, Pure Altitude Spa. The relaxation area includes the Nordic Spiral, which alternates dry and humid heat, punctuated by waterfall showers, a tepidarium, snow treatments and culminating in an Igloo. The extremes of temperatures stimulate the blood oxygenation, minimising the aches and pains of a day on the slopes. There is also a heated pool. The hotel offers three restaurants serving a mix of haute cuisine, fondues and hearty dishes from the rotisserie.

Other adrenaline fuelled activities are also on offer at the hotel, including snow driving, tobogganing on the longest run in Europe, dog sledding, glacier hiking and airboarding. Details: <http://lei.sr?a=H4n8l>
