

Luxe Fitness - Bristol Case Study

Luxe Fitness is the largest single-site project we've completed since our launch in 2021. The site was located in an old iconic building in the centre of Bristol, which threw up a number of challenges with building regulations and site access. The project was more than a year in length and the installation of the site took 10 days in total.

Inspace Fitness provided Luxe with a full range of premium specification touchscreen cardio equipment, a vast selection of strength, plate-loaded and free weights machines and benches, alongside a wide variety of accessories that all came from our very own accessory line.

We were also responsible for flooring the entire building with products from our premium flooring lines. Some areas were left with the original wooden flooring, while others were covered and protected by our tiles and rolls of varying thicknesses and finishes. A bespoke turf track was also delivered to finish off the functional area.

The functional space was a totally bespoke solution, from the initial design of the rig and the flooring layout to the choice of storage to best utilise the space we had. Early feedback has shown this area to be a huge success, with it being very well received by staff and members at the club who now have an amazing space to do pretty much whatever they want.

Working with this client was a dream, although incredibly challenging in parts. The client knew exactly what they wanted and was not afraid to push the limits and boundaries of what was possible. We addressed all the challenges and came out on top at every turn, providing totally bespoke solutions where needed and dealing with any obstacle or hurdles without any issues.

We strongly believe Luxe Fitness in Bristol is now one of the best clubs in the city. It has atmosphere by the bucket load and a really cool and trendy vibe that all stems from the owner's vision and the great team of people he built around him. It was an enormous pleasure and honour to be chosen as the supplier for this amazing project.
